Summary of the Seminar:

The seminar programme was organized by the Department of English of Al-Ameen Memorial Minority College

The 4th semester students of English Honours of this institution presented papers on the topic "Comparative Study:Sukumar Roy's and Lewis Carroll's Nonsense Literature " covering different aspects of the topic, which were subtitled as:

- a) Exploration the underlying themes and messages embedded within the nonsense elements of each text.
 - b) cultural and societal contexts influence the interpretation of these themes.
 - (c) Comparison of the characters and settings in both works, examining their absurdity and how they contribute to the overall nonsensical atmosphere.
 - (d) Role of fantasy and imagination in shaping the characters and settings.
 - (e) The comedic techniques employed by each author, including satire, irony, and exaggeration.
 - (f) Elements are used in the texts to critique society or human behavior.
- Structural and Stylistic Features:
- (g) Structural and stylistic features of both works, such as rhyme scheme, narrative structure, and use of illustrations
 - (h) Elements enhance the overall reading experience and contribute to the sense of nonsense.

Both Sukumar Ray's "Abol Tabol" and Lewis Carroll's "Through the Looking-Glass" are exemplary works of nonsense literature, showcasing the authors' whimsical imagination and linguistic playfulness. While Ray's "Abol Tabol" is rooted in Bengali culture and language, Carroll's "Through the Looking-Glass" is steeped in English traditions. However, both works employ nonsensical language, absurd scenarios, and unconventional storytelling techniques to challenge readers' perceptions and offer a delightful escape from reality. Through their humorous wordplay and surreal imagery, both authors invite readers to explore the boundaries of language and logic, making their works timeless classics in the genre of nonsense literature.
